

PLEASE consider the good of the American People, as difficult as it might be. History will look upon you with great disdain if you favor a small group of media owners. Be on the side of the American public.